

Scott River Watershed Council

Scott River Watershed & You

Scott Valley is rich with natural and human resources. Like so many things in today's world, the issues surrounding water and resources have steadily increased over the years and the forecast does not predict a change of direction, hence the reason and importance for local, community involvement. The Scott River Watershed Council invites you to help...

- Increase the Scott River Watershed Council General membership
- Promote the understanding and the stewardship of our own resources.
- Keep volunteerism active for the betterment of our watershed.

Purpose Statement

The SRWC provides for a volunteer, multi-interest effort to cooperatively seek solutions in order to help improve local resources and facilitate community collaboration on watershed issues through a membership that:

- Stays informed on community resource issues by receiving notices and agendas of upcoming meetings, by attending meetings and activities on topics of interest, and by reading pertinent watershed information.
- Promotes effective, voluntary solutions on issues that face our watershed and related communities.
- Focuses on the recognition and sustainability of Scott Valley's unique way of life.
- Is willing to voluntarily participate in the process minimally or fully engaged.

The History of the Council

- In 1992 the Siskiyou Resource Conservation District (RCD) sponsored the Scott River Watershed Coordinated Resource Management Planning Council (CRMP)
- On November 16, 1999, The CRMP was officially dissolved and on that same day restructured as the Scott River Watershed Council.
- Thousands of hours have already been donated by Scott River stakeholders, and for that we give thanks. Let's keep it going as the work continues on!

Membership Request Form

As an interested stakeholder within the Scott River watershed, please add me as a member to the General Council of the Scott River Watershed Council. I am in support of the PURPOSE STATEMENT. I realize that the SRWC does not serve a regulatory role, and understand that the SRWC is a forum for discussion, facilitates dissemination of information, and encourages cooperation. I also understand that the SRWC can make recommendations to the Siskiyou RCD, and to local, state and federal decision makers from projects to policy. As a member of the SRWC, I am not being asked to do anything that is not voluntary. As a member I am encouraged to stay informed on the issues, attend informational meetings if possible and voice my opinion if I feel the need. I also realize I may cancel my membership at anytime by submitting a written request to any Board or Director or the Council Coordinator.
